

Emese Mandzak

Product Design Manager

I am a Product Design Team Manager who prides herself on being a great translator between design, user and business needs.

As a Design Lead, I take decisions about directions, manage stakeholders/resources, and within the organisation, I coach and mentor my team and lead by example; as a Designer, I have a hands-on, critical, collaborative and creative approach.

Experience

DEC 2021 - PRESENT

Onfido, London - Product Design Manager

- I've built, onboarded and navigated my team through several re-org and challenging times.
- Working closely with the team, leading them to succeed and make an impact.
- I'm leading a design vision for a new SDK.

NOV 2018 - NOV 2021

Preqin - Product Designer to Product Design Lead

- I managed a team of four mid-weight product designers who worked within embedded cross-functional teams on Preqin's customer-facing product, Preqin Pro.
- I was the Lead Designer of Preqin's ESG Solutions product suite, part of the Pro platform.
- As a Senior Product Designer, I worked on Preqin Pro's fund series tool, mentored designers and helped to scale and mature the design team within Preqin.
- I was Preqin's first permanent designer in the London office and sketched, prototyped, and validated several feature ideas for Preqin Pro. I was instrumental in scaling the design team to up to 20 people.

OCT 2017 - NOV 2018

Sommet Education - UX Manager

- I designed two native apps and I improved the user experience of multiple web pages. I managed the work of a couple of contract designers and mentored a designer outside the organisation in the meantime.
- I managed a localisation project which had a huge impact in increasing the two universities' visibility in various regions.

FEB 2014 - OCT 2017

London Business School - Digital Manager

- As a Digital Campaigns Manager at LBS, I managed digital communication campaigns for the senior leadership programs.
- I designed the content and layout for email campaigns and re-designed the content and layout of the presentations for the Recruitment and Admissions team.
- I worked on CRM UX enhancements.
